

Jason Chollar

Children Leading their Parents

When I was 9 my Dad took us to a Sunday night church service at Park Springs Bible Church in Arlington, Texas, where a missionary was speaking. That evening I felt the burning of the Spirit in my heart. With no hesitation, just childlike faith and obedience, my sister and I went forward to be missionaries. It took a little longer before my parents were convinced that God was calling our family to full time missions. They responded to God’s call and packed up our things and we traveled around the country looking for ministry partners. Then we left everything we knew (language, culture, food, geography, friends, and family) and headed over to Belgium, Europe. Our family spent ten years there, and I saw God work in amazing ways among the people there, all while shaping my own heart, passions and talents.

The Blind Leading the Sighted

My father has lost his physical sight, but despite that, he still goes wherever God calls him. Nicaragua, Liberia, Kenya, Ethiopia, Sudan...he’s been to over 50 countries bringing the hope of salvation through trusting in Jesus Christ alone.

The harvest is plentiful, but the laborers are few. Therefore pray earnestly to the Lord of the harvest to send out laborers into his harvest.

Luke 10:2

This past month I had the opportunity to go to Nicaragua to see what God was doing, and I was truly blown away. From the airport, to the hotel, to the prisons, to the churches, to the

Singing and Preaching in Prison hospitals and even in the open market square, I witnessed first-hand how people responded with humility and gratitude when we shared the Gospel. We shared the Gospel through stories and verses and songs. We brought physical water and the Living Water. The people we spoke to knew they were sinners, and after a clear presentation of the Gospel, they were eager to respond by trusting in Christ alone for their salvation. Almost 100 in 4 days? That's what I call a fully stocked fishing hole!

Jesus said to them "Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men."

Matthew 4:19

Answering the Call ... Again

For the past 18 years I have served as the Worship Pastor at Cedarhome Baptist Church in Stanwood, Washington. It's a place with so many memories. My wife has attended Cedarhome since she was in high school, we got married here, we celebrated Danica's parents' homecoming to Heaven here, and I baptized our children here. However, once again, the Lord is calling me to recognize the end of one season and prepare for the next.

For everything there is a season, and a time for every matter under heaven.

Ecclesiastes 3:1 (ESV)

Praises:

- 96 souls saved in four days in Nicaragua.
- God is already confirming the call through the many positive responses and pledges of support we have received.
- Our church family is supportive and excited for this new adventure God is calling us on, even though they will miss us.

Requests:

- Prayer for the newborn Christians in Nicaragua, our field director Francisco and the local pastors he works with.
- Prayer that many would join in by praying, giving, sharing and going, as the Lord leads.
- Prayer for our home church and family during the transition, as we enter this new season.

Are you ready to jump in?

Could the Lord be calling you to partner with us by praying, giving, sharing and/or going?

- Pray - Would you be willing to pray regularly for me, my family and the CrossWay International Team?
- Give - Would you ask God if He would want you to cheerfully give towards this ministry?
- Share - Would you help us share the news of how God is working through CrossWay International with your friends and family, both by telling people in person and by posting to social media?
- Go - If God leads, would you be open to coming with us on a short term trip to serve and to see first-hand what God is doing through CrossWay International?

To partner with me look for this button at www.gocrossway.org/jason/support